UMW President Says Union Has No Wage Proposals But "Expects Improvement"

BENEFITS BIG ISSUE

Washington, June 7.—(AP)—John L. Lewis opened soft coal contract talks today with a blast of denunciation at the operators.

He called them "rat cats magnificently equipped with deep and without restraint into the national purse."

He made two points clear about any agreement replacing the contract expiring June 30.

1. The United Mine Workers have no wage proposals, but they "expect improvements."

2. They want guarantees under the 1947 miners' welfare fund which has paid out nothing because it is tied up in a legal dispute.

He put the next move up to the operators. The miners will consider any offer "which you may persuade yourselves to utter," Lewis said.

This was in a statement with which Lewis opened the negotiations.

He scornfully told the operators they had reduced collective bargaining "to mockery."

Lewis said he and his union attended the court-ordered bargaining conference "only through duress."

He was directed to negotiate with the Southern Coal Producers Association by Justice T. Alan Goldsborough, against his will and under injunction.

Goldsborough acted under the Taft-Hartley act which Lewis called "the first major thrust of fascist tyranny in the republic."

In his formal statement, Lewis seemed to extend a definite strike threat with the statement that:

"We assume that you would deplore any impairment of your abnormal income after July 1, 1947."

Proposals On Germany Are Made Public

Washington, June 7.—(AP)—In the face of certain Russian opposition, the western powers announced today a five-point proposal for creating a separate, federal government in western Germany.

At the same time they revealed new measures to block any future German aggression.

The agreements, results of a six-power western nation conference which ended at London a week ago, were announced simultaneously here and in Europe.

They are subject to formal acceptance by the governments of the United States, Britain, France and the low countries and a stiff fight over them is expected at Paris.

The conference also agreed that the military governors of the western zone should create a military security board to assure continued disarmament and demilitarization in Germany.

Further, it was agreed that, prior to any general withdrawal of occupation forces "agreements will be reached among the governments concerned with respect to necessary measures of demilitarization, disarmament and control of industry with respect to occupation of key areas." Likewise, the conference decided there should be a post-occupation inspection system to keep Germany disarmed.

London, June 7.—(AP)—The British cabinet studied and quickly approved today the six-nation proposals on Germany, a government source said.

In France, the government faced a storm over the agreement, but foreign ministry aides predicted the national assembly will approve the pact after hearing many hot words.

French opposition came from right and left alike—from Gen. Charles de Gaulle's chief adviser and from Communist organs, speaking of a "national disaster."

The text of a six-nation agreement on Germany was handed Marshal V. D. Sokolovsky, Soviet military governor for that occupied country, in Berlin, by the American and British military governors and the French deputy military governor.

New York, June 7.—(AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower today began his Columbia University's 13th presidential job he hopes will be "a lot of fun."

He assumed office just four weeks and one day after leading the mighty Allied invasion of Europe. There was no ceremony. He will be formally installed in office next fall.

The general indicated to reporters he considered his civilian post an adventure during a ten-minute interview. He is to be in his office in the Low Memorial building.

"This time four years ago," he said, "I was visiting (Gen. Omar) Bradley, (Field Marshal Bernard) Montgomery and people along the beaches."

After 36 years in one profession, he said, referring to his army career, "it has been a little adjustment."

General Eisenhower succeeds Dr. Frank Fackenthal, who has been acting president of 194-year-old Columbia since Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler retired Oct. 1, 1945, after 13 years as president.

Balking Southerners Give Up Hope of Keeping President From Getting Nomination

Washington, June 7.—(AP)—Despite an anti-Truman flareup in Nebraska, balking southerners have given up hope of keeping President Truman from getting the Democratic nomination. They may bring out a post-convention presidential candidate of their own.

Senators Walter George and Richard Russell of Georgia are being mentioned as among those most likely to carry the banner of a new southern Democratic party if one can be formed.

Just now the southerners are all mixed up on where they stand in their fight against Mr. Truman's so-called civil rights program.

Some states, like Alabama, have directed their electors not to vote for the president. Others, like Texas, have instructed their delegations to fight Mr. Truman's program but to stick with the convention nominee.

Some delegations may walk out of the party's Philadelphia convention. Others won't. Some are just plain undecided.

But if the party nominated Mr. Truman and adopts a platform that backs up his proposals for anti-lynching, anti-poll tax, anti-segregation, and anti-job discrimination laws, several states may be looking elsewhere for a man to support.

If that happens, Dixie leaders hope to get together on one man who could receive all of the anti-Truman electoral votes. By this kind of concentration, they would have a chance—even if remote—of throwing the presidential election into the house of representatives.

Mr. Truman, himself, meanwhile, was trying to make hay among convention delegates as he traveled westward on a political barnstorming tour.

His efforts in Nebraska boomeranged. But lacking only 20-odd pledges of undisputed votes to reach the 618 he needs, the president seemed likely to sew up a first ballot nomination early this week. He will be nominated by Missouri's governor Phil M. Donnelly.

Oklahoma Democrats met to pick their 24-vote delegation to day. Kentucky will choose 26 tomorrow, Connecticut 20 and the District of Columbia six on Friday.

On Saturday Colorado will name 12 and Minnesota 26.

Among delegates already picked, Mr. Truman lost at least one but picked up another over the weekend.

William Ritchie, Nebraska state Democratic chairman and a delegate to the convention opening July 12, announced in Omaha Sunday that "after what happened yesterday" he will cast his vote "for some Jeffersonian Democrat."

Ritchie declared that Nebraska and Iowa Democrats were "giving the bum's rush" during the president's visit to Omaha on Saturday.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower takes over custody today as president of Columbia University. He has postponed any formal induction ceremonies until next fall, a long time after both parties will have picked their candidates.

The general has said he is not available for the nomination of either party. And few politicians now expect him to have any more to say about politics, despite recurrent rumors that he may come out in favor of some Republican.

ARMY RUSHES ENGINEERS TO FLOOD AREA

Effort is Being Made to Hold Weakening 100-Mile Dike From Portland to Pacific

CREST SURGES SOUTH

Portland, Ore., June 7.—(AP)—The army today threw a fresh engineering field command against the raging Columbia River. It was a desperate attempt to hold the weakening 100-mile dike front from Portland to the Pacific.

Twenty-six officers of the army engineers corps rushed to critical points in the heavily barricaded lower valley as the great river built up pressure with its second flood wave in a week. The reinforcements, including five lieutenant colonels, flew in during the night from Fort Belvoir, Va.

The time was short, the task huge.

Prevent expansion of the flood toll by the Columbia and Fraser rivers in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Canada's British Columbia. 26 dead, 52 missing, about 60,000 homeless, damage of perhaps $140,000,000.

The new flood crest was deep into the already hard hit industrial area around Portland and Vancouver, across the Columbia in Washington. It was surging downriver, building up the current that has been grinding away the dikes since the first crest rolled down six days ago.

The weather teamed with the river. So did the sea.

This was the day of the season's highest tide—nine feet. It churned this morning and crashed into the flood current in the critical lower river area. The collision sent the water level higher, increased the gnawing on ever-softening levee walls.

Col. O. E. Walsh, commanding the U. S. engineers' Portland district, assigned the 26 new engineer officers to operational commands all along the front of 43 dike districts.

In support, the coast guard started an air patrol and put a flotilla of cutters and auxiliary craft on the turbulent stream. Radio-telephone trucks maintained constant communication in the trouble zone.

U. S. River Forecaster Elmer Fisher said the Columbia crest was "within a hair" of last week's mark—30.3 feet at Vancouver and 29.95 at Portland in the Willamette river near its confluence with the Columbia.

The crest is moving through the lower valley below Portland. Dangerously high waters will remain in its wake for days.

At least, another disaster of Vanport's proportions can not be. No chance for one unexpected leave 45 children and seven adults missing, make 18,700 homeless.

Arab Nations Handed Conditions For An Armistice In Palestine

President Truman Joins War Buddies in Omaha

President Truman, arriving in Omaha to attend the annual reunion of his World War I comrades in the 35th Division, was greeted by his sister, Mary Jane Truman, of Grandview, Mo., and Ed McKim, who served with him in France.

Truman's Aides Strengthen Plans to Assure Maximum Crowds For His Appearances

Aboard Truman Train En Route to Sun Valley, Idaho, June 7.—(AP)—President Truman entered Idaho today advocating public power and reclamation projects against what he said was the opposition of some "who would put the welfare of a few promoters over the welfare of the people."

The chief executive told a train side crowd at Pocatello that he hoped to get congress to provide at least "some of the funds" necessary for the development of the Columbia river basin and other projects.

He said he had been up since 5:45, looking over the scenery. He saw, among other things, a mare mothering a mule colt.

"It looks just like Missouri," he said.

At the president pushed westward with his preconvention campaign his aides sought to strengthen their advance planning to assure maximum crowds for his appearances.

They attributed the size of Saturday night's crowd of 2,000 in Omaha's 10,000-seat Ak-Sar-Ben coliseum on failure of a local arrangements committee to give full notice that the general public was invited.

This explanation also was offered by Coliseum Manager J. J. Isaacson at the time of Mr. Truman's arrival for his farm policy speech. The address was under auspices of the 35th Division, but not limited to its members.

Thousands of westerners greeted the president in a series of platform appearances yesterday and upwards of 5,000 saw him at Cheyenne, Wyo., where he spoke last night from the steps of the executive mansion with Democratic Governors Lester Hunt of Wyoming, and Lee Knous, of Colorado.

The Omaha speech, ending a day when the president marched in the 35th division reunion parade before a crowd estimated by police at 150,000 to 165,000, brought an anti-Truman statement from William Ritchie, state Democratic chairman.

Ritchie announced he will not support the president for another term.

He blamed the president's advisers and "the inability of Mr. Truman to recognize that he is not being wisely advised."

There was no comment from Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross on Ritchie's statement. Nor would Ross give any indication to the size of the Omaha audience.

At the same time, other members of the president's party took little pains to hide their disappointment and said they had taken steps to tighten coordination between Mr. Truman's staff and reception committees throughout the remainder of his tour.

The president talked to the crowds around railroad stations in Nebraska yesterday and in a chat, friendly fashion.

Presented a pair of cowboy boots later at Kearney, Neb., he remarked to the crowd that they would go well with his spurs.

"I can really take congress for a ride correct now," he said.

Police Chief R. T. Nelson estimated that 5,000 people were on hand to greet the president, his wife and daughter, Margaret, when they stepped from their private car to attend services at the Kearney First Baptist church.

CADDY FAILS TO DEATH

Erle, June 7.—(AP)—Robert Irish, 16-year-old caddy, plunged 150 feet to his death Saturday while playing near a bank at the Kahkwa Club golf course. Coroner W. W. Wood said the youth apparently stumbled and slipped over the rim of a gorge, falling to the bed of Walnut creek.

Seaside Heights, N. J., June 7.—(AP)—A honeymooning couple, mysteriously dead on their wedding night, were discovered last night in a seaside apartment.

Police broke into the apartment after the owner had become alarmed at not seeing his tenants all day. The couple was found dead in bed.

Police Chief P. McDevitt identified them as Mr. and Mrs. William H. Treys of Philadelphia. She was the former Evelyn Smalley.

The bodies were found about 6 p. m., and Dr. Irl Wentz said they had been dead about 12 hours.

Police Lieut. Edward Ryan, who found the bodies, said the couple had reserved the apartment for a week and arrived Saturday. They said they had just been married.

Ryan said there was nothing to indicate the cause of the deaths.

The bodies were in bed, Ryan said, the man clothed in pajamas and the woman nude. There were no signs of violence, he said.

Suitcases had not yet been unpacked, Ryan said. There was an orchid corsage and a gardenia in the ice box.

Ryan described the deaths as "extremely odd" and said a police inquiry was under way.

An autopsy was ordered, and vital organs were sent to the state police laboratory at Trenton for examination.

Police said the husband was a 37-year-old machinist. The bride's age was listed as 31.

Prague, Czechoslovakia, June 7—(P)—Ill and exhausted, President Eduard Benes resigned today rather than approve a new constitution drawn up by the Communists.

Benes, 64, had served as president 11 years, in two terms, and his present term had five years to run.

Premier Klement Gottwald's office announced the cabinet accepted the resignation and voted to continue Benes' presidential salary and give him the presidential home at Lany.

He resigned once before—in 1938 after the Munich conference brought the German invasion—but resumed the presidency in London, July 21, 1940. He first became president in December, 1935, after Thomas G. Masaryk resigned because of age and illness. Benes had been Masaryk's foreign minister 17 years and helped him found the Czechoslovak Republic.

Bride and Man Accused Of Kidnapping Held In Kansas

Wichita, Kas., June 7—(P)—A 17-year-old girl and a married salesman, charged with kidnapping her, were in police custody today.

The salesman is Arthur Deets, Jr., 23, of Kingston, Pa. He is the father of two children. The girl, Mrs. Mary Kalinoski, York, Pa., is a bride of less than two months.

Police said they ran away May 28 shortly before the girl's high school graduation. They were arrested here yesterday.

Mrs. Kalinoski told officers she left willingly with Deets. "We know we love each other," Deets said.

Thomas T. Kalinoski, 25, New Britain, Conn., who said he and the girl were wed secretly April 15, filed the kidnapping charge at York.

Mrs. Kalinoski said she respected her husband but loved Deets. Police Detective Frank Parsons reported.

"From the standpoint of law, I know we were way out of step," Deets said, "but from the standpoint of how we feel about each other, we were in step."

He said they both plan to obtain divorces and be married.

Both waived extradition. At York, Kalinoski said he planned to start for Wichita today and would press the kidnapping charge until he learned more details.

At York, District Attorney Harold B. Rudisill said if the girl was quoted correctly that she accompanied Deets of her own will there could be no prosecution on the abduction charge.

A spokesman for Wilson said last night, however, that the union's action in calling off the strike was a surprise to company officials and came without any negotiations with the firm.

The union announced the workers would return to their jobs today under settlement terms reached May 21 with the other big four packers—Swift, Armour and Cudahy. That agreement provided for a nine-cent-an-hour wage raise and reinstatement without prejudice of all workers except those accused of alleged unlawful acts during the strike. Re-employment of any striker so accused was to be submitted to arbitration.

A spokesman for Wilson said last night, however, that the union's action in calling off the strike was a surprise to company officials and came without any negotiations with the firm.

ARMY RUSHES ENGINEERS TO FLOOD AREA

Effort is Being Made to Hold Weakening 100-Mile Dike From Portland to Pacific

CREST SURGES SOUTH

Portland, Ore., June 7—(P)—The army today threw a fresh engineering field command against the raging Columbia River. It was a desperate attempt to hold the weakening 100-mile dike front from Portland to the Pacific.

Twenty-six officers of the army engineers corps rushed to critical points in the heavily barricaded lower valley as the great river built up pressure with its second flood wave in a week. The reinforcements, including five lieutenant colonels, flew in during the night from Fort Belvoir, Va.

The time was short, the task huge.

Prevent expansion of the flood toll by the Columbia and Fraser rivers in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Canada's British Columbia—26 dead, 52 missing, about 60,000 homeless, damage of perhaps $140,000,000.

The new flood crest was deep into the already hard hit industrial area around Portland and Vancouver, across the Columbia in Washington. It was surging downriver, building up the current that has been grinding away the dikes since the first crest rolled down six days ago.

The weather teamed with the river. So did the sea.

This was the day of the season's highest tide—nine feet. It churned this morning and crashed into the flood current in the critical lower river area. The collision sent the water level higher, increased the gnawing on ever-softening levee walls.

Col. O. E. Walsh, commanding the U. S. engineers' Portland district, assigned the 26 new engineer officers to operational commands all along the front of 43 dike districts.

In support, the coast guard started an air patrol and put a flotilla of cutters and auxiliary craft on the turbulent stream. Radio-telephone trucks maintained constant communication in the trouble zone.

U. S. River Forecaster Elmer Fisher said the Columbia crest was "within a hair" of last week's mark—30.3 feet at Vancouver, 29.95 at Portland in the Willamette river near its confluence with the Columbia.

The crest is moving through the lower valley below Portland. Dangerously high waters will remain in its wake for days.

There still will be threat of breakthrough. And of blowout—the sudden bursting of a big section of dike like that which drowned the housing city of Vancouver a week ago yesterday.

At least, another disaster of Vancouver's proportions will not be. No chance for one. Unexpected blow to chalk up two known dead, leave 45 children and seven adults missing, make 18,700 homeless.

All danger areas downriver have been ordered evacuated long since.

STRANDED ON REEF
Erie, June 7—(P)—Thirty-six week-end fishermen were none the worse today for their experience of being stranded four hours when their boat grounded on a reef near shore. Coast guardsmen aided the passengers to shore and removed the boat from the reef yesterday.

The Omaha speech, ending a day when the president marched in the 35th division reunion parade before a crowd estimated by police at 150,000 to 165,000, brought an anti-Truman statement from William Ritchie, state Democratic chairman.

Ritchie announced he will not support the president for another term.

He blamed the president's advisers "the inability of Mr. Truman to recognize that he is not being wisely advised."

There was no comment from Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross on Ritchie's statement. Nor would Ross give any official reaction to the size of the Omaha audience.

At the same time, other members of the president's party took little pains to hide their disappointment and said they had taken steps to tighten coordination between Mr. Truman's staff and reception committees throughout the remainder of his tour.

The president talked to the crowds around railroad stations in Nebraska yesterday and in a chat, friendly fashion.

Presented a pair of cowboy boots later at Kearney, Neb., he remarked to the crowd that they would go well with his spurs.

"I can really take congress for a ride correct now," he said.

Police Chief R. T. Nelson estimated that 5,000 people were on hand to greet the president, his wife and daughter, Margaret, when they stepped from their private car to attend services at the Kearney First Baptist church.

CADDY FALLS TO DEATH
Erie, June 7—(P)—Robert Irish, 16-year-old caddy, plunged 150 feet to his death Saturday while playing golf near a bank at the Kahkwa Club golf course. Coroner W. W. Wood said the youth apparently stumbled and slipped over the rim of a gorge, falling to the bed of Walnut creek.

It was tabled on a motion by Chairman Gurney (R-S.D.) of the Armed Services committee. The motion was not debatable.

This was the first test on a set of seven Langer amendments covering most of President Truman's "civil rights" measures such as anti-lynch, anti-poll and anti-segregation.

Some senators who favor the civil rights program opposed Langer's amendments. They said that the military manpower bill is not the place to fight out such issues.

Gurney told his colleagues before the vote that the two-year draft bill "is of paramount importance."

He said civil rights legislation should "stand on its own feet" and not be hooked on to the draft bill.

Arab Nations Handed Conditions For An Armistice In Palestine

President Truman Joins War Buddies in Omaha

President Truman, arriving in Omaha to attend the annual reunion of his World War I comrades in the 35th Division, was greeted by his sister, Mary Jane Truman, of Grandview, Mo., and Ed McKim, who served with him in France.

Truman's Aides Strengthen Plans to Assure Maximum Crowds For His Appearances

Aboard Truman Train En Route to Sun Valley, Idaho, June 7—(P)—President Truman entered Idaho today advocating public power and reclamation projects against what he said was the opposition of some "who would put the welfare of a few promoters over the welfare of the people."

The chief executive told a train side crowd at Pocatello that he hoped to get congress to provide at least "some of the funds" necessary for the development of the Columbia river basin and other projects.

He said he had been up since 5:45, looking over the scenery. He saw, among other things, a mare mothering a mule colt.

"It looks just like Missouri," he said.

At the president pushed westward with his preconvention campaign his aides sought to strengthen their advance planning to assure maximum crowds for his appearances.

They attributed the size of Saturday night's crowd of 2,000 in Omaha's 10,000-seat Ak-Sar-Ben coliseum on failure of a local arrangements committee to give full notice that the general public was invited.

This explanation also was offered by Coliseum Manager J. J. Isaacson at the time of Mr. Truman's arrival for his farm policy speech. The address was under auspices of the 35th Division, but not limited to its members.

Thousands of westerners greeted the president in a series of platform appearances yesterday and upwards of 5,000 saw him at Cheyenne, Wyo., where he spoke last night from the steps of the executive mansion to the steps of the Governors' Hunt of Wyoming, and Lee Knous, of Colorado.

The Omaha speech, ending a day when the president marched in the 35th division reunion parade before a crowd estimated by police at 150,000 to 165,000, brought an anti-Truman statement from William Ritchie, state Democratic chairman.

Ritchie announced he will not support the president for another term.

Young Swimmer Is Electrocuted
Harrisburg, June 7—(P)—A 12-year-old boy was electrocuted when a short circuit in an underground power line sent current through a steel ladder in a public swimming pool, Dr. Winfield Yarnell, deputy coroner, said.

Dr. Yarnell said the boy, Clyde Peters, of Harrisburg, died of electric burns yesterday as the water was charged in a 15-foot circle around the ladder at the Gay-way swimming pool.

The boy and another swimmer, Rosemary Critch, 11, were with him in the charged area at the time. Both suddenly stiffened and sank beneath the surface, Yarnell said.

Police Chief P. McDewitt identified them as Mr. and Mrs. William H. Treys of Philadelphia. She was the former Evelyn Smalley.

The bodies were found about 6 p. m., and Dr. Irl Wentz said they had been dead about 12 hours.

Police Lieut. Edward Ryan, who found the bodies, said the couple had reserved the apartment for a week and arrived Saturday. They said they had just been married.

Ryan said there was nothing to indicate the cause of the deaths.

The bodies were in bed, Ryan said, the man clothed in pajamas and the woman nude. There were no signs of violence, he said.

Suitcases had not yet been unpacked, Ryan said. There was an orchid corsage and a gardenia in the ice box.

Ryan described the deaths as "extremely odd" and said a police inquiry was under way.

An autopsy was ordered, and vital organs were sent to the state police laboratory at Trenton for examination.

Police said the husband was a 37-year-old machinist. The bride's age was listed as 31.

52nd Anniversary Of First Screen Kiss

Hollywood, June 7—(P)—The motion picture capital observes today—the 52nd anniversary of the first screen kiss.

Back in 1896 the first pursed lips and smothered sighs were recorded on celluloid by May Irwin and John C. Rice. It was in a peep show called "The Widow Jones."

Actually, it wasn't a kiss, judged by today's standards. Today it would be classified as a near miss. Still, it created a stir and a demand for censorship. The clergy denounced it as a "lyric of the stockyards."

Bernadotte communicated the proposal to Jewish authorities in Tel Aviv.

He declined to comment on reports from an Associated Press correspondent in Amman that negotiations for a truce appeared to be falling apart. Bernadotte returned only this morning from flights to Beirut, Haifa and Amman.

Outside Amman, Trans-Jordan's King Abdullah talked with right officers of the five Allied Arab armies he commands and looked over battle maps. He had received Bernadotte Sunday and then motored to the old city of Jerusalem, which his Arab Legion has conquered, to inspect Holy Places subjected recently to Jewish mortar fire.

Joseph C. Goodwin of the Associated Press reported from Amman last night that the Arab-Jewish agreement on the truce principle seemed to be breaking up.

A high Arab authority there said the Jews have made demands that may "kill any truce." He said these are:

(1) That they may be allowed to carry on free immigration to Israel during the cease-fire.

(2) That the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem road be opened. This has supplied 80,000 to 90,000 Jews now under fire in Jerusalem.

The Arabs have opposed both these demands. They are blocking the highway into Jerusalem.

ACCEPT WAGE OFFER
Pittsburgh, June 7—(P)—Approximately 2,500 members of Local 249, AFL Teamsters, have voted to accept a new contract embodying a "package" 12½ cent hourly wage increase. Officers of the local who recommended adoption reported the vote yesterday was almost unanimous.

Spokesmen for the western Pennsylvania Motor Carriers Association, said their members will be urged to accept the contract.

Large Delegation From Here Attends Shrine Convention
A deluxe streamliner passenger train attracted considerable attention here last night at 10 o'clock when it stopped at the Pennsylvania Railroad passenger depot on the west side to pick up the Warren delegation to the national Shrine convention in Atlantic City.

The train was comprised of 15 cars, including sleepers, coaches and a diner.

The train was one of 27 specials being operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad from all parts of the country to transport some 10,000 Shrine members to the seashore resort for the national meet.

The railroad's big task of returning the Shrine members to their homes will come on Thursday.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 7—(P)—Some 40,000 lodge brothers dressed in red fez caps virtually took over this resort city today as the Ancient Arabic Order, nobles of the Mystic Shrine, moved in for its 74th annual convention.

The frolic starts tonight with a Mardi Gras procession on the Atlantic City boardwalk, and tomorrow morning the Shrine members will be the first of their two big convention parades.

The formalities of the business sessions will follow that opening parade tomorrow. Addresses by Gov. Beauford H. Jester of Texas and Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey are on the agenda.

The second major parade will be a torchlight procession scheduled for Wednesday night. Uniformed bands, chanters and drill patrols of the visiting temples will be included.

BATTLE RAGES AS MEDIATOR SEEKS TRUCE

Jews Claim Successes South of Tel Aviv and to The Northwest Around Triangle

SYRIAN ARMY ACTIVE

Cairo, June 7—(P)—Count Folke Bernadotte handed to Arab nations today his proposal for a starting time and conditions of the four-week armistice in Palestine.

Peace appeared unlikely during this week, however. Palace sources in Amman, Trans-Jordan, said the Arab League Political Committee will not meet before Saturday. It is the kinsman of the Arab effort in the Holy Land.

Fighting continued. The Jews claimed success south of Tel Aviv, and to the northeast around the Arabs' Tulkarm-Jenin-Nabulus Triangle. The Syrian army became active on the north border of Palestine and the Saudi Arabians were declared to have placed a considerable force with tanks and armor in Palestine alongside the Egyptians.

Bernadotte, mediator for the United Nations, has been empowered to fix the starting time of the truce, to which both sides have agreed. The Arabs, however, affixed "explanations." It was the count's task to reconcile the differences, particularly over Jewish insistence, and Arab objections to unlimited immigration to Israel during the truce and opening of the road to the 50,000 besieged Jews in Jerusalem.

Bernadotte gave his proposals to the foreign minister of Egypt, the ministers of Saudi Arabia and Trans-Jordan and the charge d'affaires of Syria, Lebanon and Iraq. The seventh state arrayed against Israel is tiny Yemen. All seven belong to the Arab League. The diplomats were asked to forward the terms to their governments.

Bernadotte communicated the proposal to Jewish authorities in Tel Aviv.

He declined to comment on reports from an Associated Press correspondent in Amman that negotiations for a truce appeared to be falling apart. Bernadotte returned only this morning from flights to Beirut, Haifa and Amman.

Outside Amman, Trans-Jordan's King Abdullah talked with right officers of the five Allied Arab armies he commands and looked over battle maps. Four persons received emergency treatment at Warren General Hospital today for minor injuries received in two traffic accidents on Warren county highways this morning. Both crashes were attributed to slippery driving conditions.

The first of the accidents occurred at 6:15 a. m., Pennsylvania State Police report, when Harold Kauffman, of New York City, skidded and struck a utility pole in Route 6 five miles west of Warren. The pole was splintered and damage to the car was estimated at $200.

Taken to the hospital for treatment were the driver, who complained of a wrenched back, and his wife, who received bruised burns.

The second accident occurred at 10:30 a. m., police reported, at Devil's Elbow on the Kinzua road, when a machine operated by John Platt, of R. D. 1, Conners Lake, (Turn to Page Eight)

Mystery In Deaths of Newly-Weds On Their Honeymoon
Seaside Heights, N. J., June 7—(P)—A honeymooning couple, mysteriously dead on their wedding night, were discovered last night in a seaside apartment.

Police broke into the apartment after the owner had become alarmed at not seeing his tenants all day. The couple was found dead in bed.

Police Chief P. McDewitt identified them as Mr. and Mrs. William H. Treys of Philadelphia. She was the former Evelyn Smalley.

The bodies were found about 6 p. m., and Dr. Irl Wentz said they had been dead about 12 hours.

May Continue Sanity Tests For Erie Man

Erie, June 7—Further mental studies of Ralph J. "Jack" Hoge, Harborcreek ice distributor, will be sought in a state institution before he is subjected to trial for the slaying of his six-year-old son, John Sherwin Hoge, it was learned today.

District Attorney Damian McLaughlin said he will file a petition asking Judge Elmer L. Evans and Burton R. Laub to commit Hoge to a mental hospital, probably the State Hospital at North Warren, not as a regular patient but for the purpose of further study to determine the question of his sanity.

In the event that this additional study should produce a finding that the 28-year-old father is insane, he would be returned to Erie county to face trial on the charge that he beat his son fatally on May 29, during an interrogation to determine "what was so awful" about the son's disposition of a toy hammer that he could not tell his father what happened to it.

McLaughlin is reportedly dissatisfied with the lack of definiteness in reports submitted by Dr. Jack Utley and Dr. John S. Clopp, psychiatrists, following recent examinations and tests.

May Continue Sanity Tests For Erie Man

Erie, June 7—Further mental studies of Ralph J. "Jack" Hoge, Harborcreek ice distributor, will be sought in a state institution before he is subjected to trial for the slaying of his six-year-old son, John Sherwin Hoge, it was learned today.

District Attorney Damian McLaughlin said he will file a petition asking Judge Elmer L. Evans and Burton R. Laub to commit Hoge to a mental hospital, probably the State Hospital at North Warren, not as a regular patient but for the purpose of further study to determine the question of his sanity.

In the event that this additional study should produce a finding that the 28-year-old father is insane, he would be returned to Erie county to face trial on the charge that he beat his son fatally on May 29, during an interrogation to determine "what was so sinful" about the son's disposition of a toy hammer that he could not tell his father what happened to it.

McLaughlin is reportedly dissatisfied with the lack of definition in reports submitted by Dr. Jack Utley and Dr. John S. Clapp, psychiatrists, following recent examinations and tests.

Registrations Still Open For "Y" Camp Cornplanter

Registrations are still open for Cornplanter, YMCA camp according to word received from Pete Harley, boys' work secretary of the Bradford YMCA. However, since over 100 boys have registered for the 3-week period and applications are coming in every day, parents are urged to get their sons' applications in as soon as possible. Applications will be received up to the first day of each camping week. The 3-week period is arranged as follows: First week June 20 to 27; second week June 27 to July 4; third week July 4 to July 11.

For all boys attending there will be plenty to do. Some of the highlights of the program will be archery, cross-country, baseball, learn to swim classes for beginners, fish club tests, not to forget good food.

A registered nurse will be in residence at camp. The qualified Red Cross life guards will attend the pool. Plans are being made to paint the pool which will not only beautify it but will make it easy for the swimmers to be seen.

Under the direction of Bob Steckmeyer, chairman of the Bradford Y's Men's Club committee for camp, members of the Bradford YMCA staff and Y's Men's Club have been busy as beavers in an effort to get everything ready for the happy gang of boys which will take over on June 20.

Pete Harley, director of the camp, expects to announce his staff in the near future. Everything is being done to make every boy's stay at camp Cornplanter a great camping experience. Camping develops strong healthy bodies, physically and mentally, a skill in social living and a variety of new skills, a spiritual awareness and understanding, and the ability to get along together in work and play.

In addition to the painting of the pool, improvements have been made in the toilet houses and matresses have been added for the comfort and safety of the campers.

Camp Cornplanter is operated by the Bradford YMCA and is sponsored by the Y's Men's club of Bradford.

Camp literature and promotion material has been placed in the hands of the local YMCA. Complete information may be secured by calling 1000, the "Y" office.

Ludlow School Closes Term With Annual Commencement

Ludlow, June 7—Ten graduates received diplomas in the 30th annual commencement exercises held by Hamilton Township High school. The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. Hans Pearson, of Sheffield, and eighth grade diplomas were presented by Gustav Olson, president of the township school board.

The American Legion Award was presented to Curtis Nelson, son of Mrs. Nan Frey, by Vernon Swanson, commander of the James Uber Post, and the Legion Auxiliary Award was presented to Kathryn Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swanson, by the Americanism chairman, Mrs. B. K. Connelly. The salutatory address was on "Americanism," Melvin McCleary comparing two ways of Americanism, and the valedictory by Eugene Draty, "The Social Approach to Education," stressed the necessity of more education, and its relation to life.

The commencement address was given by H. D. Harris, principal of Beaty Junior High School of Warren, who spoke on "Prepared Places for Prepared People." He emphasized the point that graduates should be more concerned with what they are to be than what they are to do, and stressed the need for building character as the backbone for education and life. His address and humor were much appreciated.

Presentation of high school diplomas was made by Mr. Olson, with the following as recipients: Donald Hegeny, James Cochran, Eugene Draty, Betty Gorman, Edward Howanec, Melvin McCleary, Jr., Shirley McKenzie, James Nelson, Betty Plubell and Carmela Servidio. Honor students were Draty, McCleary, McKenzie, and Nelson. Class officers were Eugene Draty, president; Betty Gorman, vice president; Edward Howanec, secretary-treasurer. Class colors were blue and gold, which furnished decorations for the evening, with the yellow tea rose as the class flower. The high school orchestra, under the direction of the music supervisor, played several numbers.

The exercises were particularly memorable in that they may be the last of their kind, since it is expected Ludlow high students will attend Kane high in the fall.

The faculty for the past year included DeWayne Slaughterhaupt, science-math, and school coach; Marjorie Orault, English; who directed two outstanding plays; Carol Brown, language-social studies, who was also active in Girl Scout work; William Dove, social studies-science; Mrs. Emil Nelson, music, who recently produced an excellent minstrel; Mrs. Melvin McCleary, grades 5-6; Mrs. Julius Swanson, grades 3-4; Violet Swanson, grades 1-2; James A. Waite, supervising principal, who has brought many visual education improvements into the school. The board of education includes Gustav Olson, president; Clyde Gilbert, vice president; Emil S. Nelson, secretary; C. H. Hanson, treasurer; Vernon Swanson, director.

Myers' bill would modify the flood control act of 1928 for the Ohio river basin to include Bradford. The northwestern Pennsylvania community has suffered a series of recent floods. The 3-week period is arranged as follows: First week June 20 to 27; second week June 27 to July 4; third week July 4 to July 11.
For all boys attending there will be plenty to do. Some of the highlights of the program will be archery, crafts, campfire programs, baseball, learn to swim classes for beginners, fish club tests, not to forget good food.
A registered nurse will be in residence at camp. The qualified Red Cross life guards will attend the pool. Plans are being made to paint the pool which will not only beautify it but will make it easy for the swimmers to be seen.
Under the direction of Bob Steckmeyer, chairman of the Bradford Y's Men's Club committee for camp, members of the Bradford YMCA staff and Y's Men's Club have been busy as beavers in an effort to get everything ready for the happy gang of boys which will take over on June 20.
Pete Harley, director of the camp, expects to announce his staff in the near future. Everything is being done to make every boy's stay at camp Cornplanter a great camping experience. Camping develops strong healthy bodies, physically and mentally, a skill in social living and a variety of new skills, a spiritual awareness and understanding, and the ability to get along together in work and play.
In addition to the painting of the pool, improvements have been made in the toilet houses and mattresses have been added for the comfort and safety of the campers.
Camp Cornplanter is operated by the Bradford YMCA and is sponsored by the Y's Men's club of Bradford.
Camp literature and promotion material has been placed in the hands of the local YMCA. Complete information may be secured by calling 1000, the "Y" office.

Ludlow School Closes Term With Annual Commencement

Ludlow, June 7—Ten graduates received diplomas in the 30th annual commencement exercises held by Hamilton Township High School. The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. Hans Pearson, of Sheffield, and eighth grade diplomas were presented by Gustav Olson, president of the township school board.
The American Legion Award was presented to Curtis Nelson, son of Mrs. Nan Frey, by Vernon Swanson, commander of the James Uber Post, and the Legion Auxiliary Award was presented to Kathryn Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swanson, by the Americanism chairman, Mrs. B. K. Connelly. The salutatory address was on "Americanism," Melvin McCleary comparing two ways of Americanism, and the valedictory by Eugene Draty, "The Social Approach to Education," stressed the necessity of more education, and its relation to life. The commencement address was given by H. D. Harris, principal of Beaty Junior High School of Warren, who spoke on "Prepared Places for Prepared People." He emphasized the point that graduates should be more concerned with what they are to be than what they are to do, and stressed the need for building character as the backbone for education and life. His address and humor were much appreciated.
Presentation of high school diplomas was also by Mr. Olson, with the following as recipients: Donald Begeny, James Cochran, Eugene Draty, Betty Gorman, Edward Howanice, Melvin McCleary, Jr., Shirley McKennie, James Nelson, Betty Plubell and Carmela Servidio. Honor students were Draty, McCleary, McKennie, and Nelson. Class officers were Eugene Draty, president; Betty Gorman, vice president; Edward Howanice, secretary-treasurer. Class colors were blue and gold, which furnished decorations for the evening, with the yellow tea rose as the class flower. The high school orchestra, under the direction of the music supervisor, played several numbers.
The exercises were particularly memorable in that they may be the last of their kind, since it is expected Ludlow high students will attend Kane high in the fall.
The faculty for the past year included DeWayne Staegenhaupt, science-math, and school coach; Marjorie Orent, English, who directed two outstanding plays: Carol Brown, language-social studies, who was also active in Girl Scout work; William Dove, social studies-science; Mrs. Emil Nelson, music, who recently produced an excellent musical, Mrs. Melvin McCleary, grades 5-6; Mrs. Julius Swanson, grades 3-4; Violet Swanson, supervising principal, who has brought many visual education improvements into the school. The board of education includes Gustav Olson, president; Clyde Gilfert, vice president; Emil S. Nelson, secretary; C. H. Hanson, treasurer; Vernon Swanson, director.

BRADFORD PROJECT
According to an Associated Press article Senator Myers Friday night introduced a bill to authorize construction of a $6,470,000 flood control project to protect the city of Bradford. Myers' bill would modify the flood control act of 1938 for the Ohio river basin to include Bradford. The northwestern Pennsylvania community has suffered a series of recent floods. Myers told a reporter he hoped to obtain action on the bill by the senate public works committee in time to have it included in the omnibus flood control authorization bill which passed the house Thursday. Projects in this bill would become eligible for inclusion in future appropriation bills for flood control.

UNION BOSSES SCREAM FOR FREEDOM

The insistence of our home-grown Communists on civil rights is so contradictory as to be ludicrous. But it isn't funny. It is bad enough to insist upon them in the name of a political philosophy which, as practiced in Russia, does not permit civil liberties to exist. It is worse when they apply such Soviet tactics in American organizations which they control, says James Thrasher in an editorial written for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror.

A New York department store has been asked to fire three of its union employees by the union's pro-Communist leadership. Their sin is that they have opposed their CIO union's support of Henry Wallace for President, and the contribution of their own dues to Communist-front organizations.

One of the three summed up the case very ably amidst the hoots and boos of a Red-led union meeting. He said: "The union is opposing the Mundt Bill as thought control in America. Its officials evidently want to establish their own thought control by expelling us, because we dare to oppose them. This is the issue, and nothing else."

This is not an isolated case. Many unions have persuaded employers to sign contracts which not only give the union the right to say whom shall be hired, but also the right to demand that the management dismiss any worker who interferes with "the harmonious relationship among the employees," or words of similar effect.

The result is that, under such a contract, a Communist-controlled union has a true Soviet weapon for enforcing discipline among the membership. Its leaders, shouting democracy and civil rights, can toss a man out of his job for failing to toe the party line, or for efforts to inject real democracy into the union's operation.

It can take a man's job, as is the case with the three department store workers, for trying to oust the Red leaders from the union. And when a company has signed such a contract as is mentioned above, it must sit in an accessory to these Moscow-inspired practices.

The top CIO leaders have finally broken with the Communists in their midst over the Henry Wallace question. Several of their unions had beaten the reluctant chiefs to the punch by ousting pro-Communist leaders. But they apparently are helpless in the face of contracts with these huge clauses which give the union heads sole voice in determining whom shall be fired as well as hired.

The Taft-Hartley Law, which labor propagandists have made into such a horrific bogeyman, doesn't seem able to do anything about such contracts, either. Perhaps it may have to be changed and strengthened to give a worker job security and protection from subversive-minded union bosses.

This would not be a perfect solution. There are certainly conceivable cases where a union would need a guaranteed defense against a professional trouble maker or perhaps a company-planted stooge. But such cases could not outweigh those in which men can only think, act and vote according to their convictions at the risk of losing their jobs.

We believe that loyalty and democracy will continue to win out among the CIO unions. But they must at least start on even terms with subversion and dictatorship. They cannot win when short-sighted or intimidated employers are the contracted partners of Communist union bosses in undemocratic practices.

D-DAY ANNIVERSARY

The fourth anniversary of D-Day was marked yesterday on both sides of the channel which American and British forces crossed four years ago.

At Utah Beach, in Normandy, United States Ambassador Jefferson Caffery said the enemy seemed to have every advantage in 1944.

Caffery and President Vincent Auriol of France toured the invasion beaches.

At Portsmouth, England, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery unveiled a memorial which faces the sea at a spot from which many units of the armada sailed with troops and equipment for the Normandy beaches. The memorial is a simple stone.

In Berlin the Russian-sponsored newspaper Taegliche Rundschau observed tartly that the invasion from the west was not necessary because the "Soviet army had already decided the war." The secret object of the invasion was to "prevent Germany's conversion to democracy," the newspaper asserted.

We think that the 20-year-old Chinese girl who is never hungry should come to the United States. If a divorcee with two children can offer herself as a wife for $10,000, and get plenty of takers, this mealless wonder from China ought to be able to demand a cool million.

Bonds Are Safeguards Against Business Bust

By Charles T. Fisher, Jr., President National Bank of Detroit

Processing of our ten million savings bond confirms our conviction that continued investment by individuals in savings bonds is one of the greatest voluntary safeguards against inflation or recession.

We have always believed that and have emphasized it in practically all of our advertising since the introduction of defense and war bonds. We are rendering all possible service in facilitating and encouraging voluntary war bond allotment plans in factories and offices for savings bond investments. Detroit has responded splendidly and our efforts will be intensified.

Good Thinning System May Double Garden Harvest

Thin out excess plants gradually, and allow the best plants to live, using discards for table when possible.

When a beginner in gardening has sown seed, and rejoiced in the quick appearance of numerous sturdy seedlings, his very pride in accomplishment may cause a failure of his crop.

With rare exceptions, he has started too many seedlings for the space available to them. Some of them must be sacrificed, so the others may thrive. The thought of destroying the plants he is so proud of is naturally unpleasant.

Too often this task is shirked, and the plants engage in a struggle for existence which prevents the normal maturity of any.

There is no satisfactory way to avoid thinning. It can be reduced by sowing thinly, but the hazards of seed germination are so great that allowance must be made for the failure of some, by sowing two or three times as many seeds as there is room to mature.

When too many come up, be thankful, and consider the thinning out as an opportunity to select the best plants as the ones to survive.

For best results, thinning should be done gradually. In case of a crop which grows best when the plants stand four inches apart, do not at first thin it to one plant for each four inches. There are two reasons for this.

First, many vegetables, such as carrots and beets, are most delicious when half-mature. By thinning at first only enough to insure that each standing well alone in the row and then allowing them to grow awhile, many will soon reach the stage when they can be harvested for the table.

Second, it is foolish to discard all excess plants prematurely when accidents, insects or disease may destroy many which are left. If thinning is done by stages as the plants grow, they will finally stand at the optimum distance from each other, and there will be small chance of vacant spaces in the row.

Lettuce plants, thinned to stand an inch apart, will soon reach a size when alternate plants can be removed to make a salad; and this process may be continued until the spacing is right for the remaining plants to mature.

Carrots may be thinned the first time when they are as thick as pencil; and a dish of the thinnings will give those who have never eaten such tiny carrots before, a new idea of this vegetable.

Beets may be allowed to grow until about six inches tall, when their roots have just begun to swell. If thinned out at this stage, the thinnings should be cooked roots and tops together, for a delicious dish.

Its officials evidently want to establish their own thought control by expelling us, because we dare to oppose them. This is the issue, and nothing else."

This is not an isolated case. Many unions have persuaded employers to sign contracts which not only give the union the right to say whom shall be hired, but also the right to demand that the management dismiss any worker who interferes with "the harmonious relationship among the employees," or words of similar effect.

The result is that, under such a contract, a Communist-controlled union has a true Soviet weapon for enforcing discipline among the membership. Its leaders, shouting democracy and civil rights, can toss a man out of his job for failing to toe the party line, or for efforts to inject real democracy into the union's operation.

It can take a man's job, as is the case with the three department store workers, for trying to oust the Red leaders from the union. And when a company has signed such a contract as is mentioned above, it must sit in as an accessory to these Moscow-inspired practices.

The top CIO leaders have finally broken with the Communists in their midst over the Henry Wallace question. Several of their unions had beaten the reluctant chiefs to the punch by ousting pro-Communist leaders. But they apparently are helpless in the face of contracts with these purge clauses which give the union heads sole voice in determining whom shall be fired as well as hired.

The Taft-Hartley Law, which labor propagandists have made into such a horrific bogeyman, doesn't seem able to do anything about such contracts, either. Perhaps it may have to be changed and strengthened to give a worker job security and protection from subversive-minded union bosses.

This would not be a perfect solution. There are certainly conceivable cases where a union would need a guaranteed defense against a professional trouble maker or perhaps a company-planted stooge. But such cases could not outweigh those in which men can only think, act and vote according to their convictions at the risk of losing their jobs.

We believe that loyalty and democracy will continue to win out among the CIO unions. But they must at least start on even terms with subversion and dictatorship. They cannot win when short-sighted or intimidated employers are the contracted partners of Communist union bosses in undemocratic practices.

D-DAY ANNIVERSARY

The fourth anniversary of D-Day was marked yesterday on both sides of the channel which American and British forces crossed four years ago.

At Utah Beach, in Normandy, United States Ambassador Jefferson Caffery said the enemy seemed to have every advantage in 1944.

Caffery and President Vincent Auriol of France toured the invasion beaches.

At Portsmouth, England, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery unveiled a memorial which faces the sea at a spot from which many units of the armada sailed with troops and equipment for the Normandy beaches. The memorial is a simple stone.

In Berlin the Russian-sponsored newspaper Taegliche Rundschau observed tartly that the invasion from the west was not necessary because the "Soviet army had already decided the war." The secret object of the invasion was to "prevent Germany's conversion to democracy," the newspaper asserted.

We think that the 20-year-old Chinese girl who is never hungry should come to the United States. If a divorcee with two children can offer herself as a wife for $10,000, and get plenty of takers, this mealless wonder from China ought to be able to demand a cool million.

Bonds Are Safeguards

Against Business Bust

By Charles T. Fisher, Jr., President
National Bank of Detroit
Detroit, Michigan

Processing of our ten million savings bond confirms our conviction that continued investment by individuals in savings bonds is one of the greatest voluntary safeguards against inflation or recession.

We have always believed this and have emphasized it in practically all of our advertising since the introduction of defense and war bonds. We are rendering all possible service in facilitating and expediting voluntary payroll allotment plans in factories and offices for savings bond investments. Detroit has responded splendidly and our efforts will be intensified.

SELECT
Anderson's BreadGood Thinning System May
Double Garden Harvest

Thin out excess plants gradually, and allow the best plants to live, using discards for table when possible.

When a beginner in gardening has sown seed, and rejoiced in the quick appearance of numerous sturdy seedlings, his very pride in accomplishment may cause a failure of his crop.

With rare exceptions, he has started too many seedlings for the space available to them. Some of them must be sacrificed, so the others may thrive. The thought of destroying the plants he is so proud of is naturally unpleasant.

Too often this task is shirked, and the plants engage in a struggle for existence which prevents the normal maturity of any.

There is no satisfactory way to avoid thinning. It can be reduced by sowing thinly, but the hazards of seed germination are so great that allowance must be made for the failure of some, by sowing two or three times as many seeds as there is room to mature.

When too many come up, be thankful, and consider the thinning out as an opportunity to select the best plants as the ones to survive.

For best results, thinning should be done gradually. In case of a crop which grows best when the plants stand four inches apart, do not at first thin it to one plant for each four inches. There are two reasons for this.

First, many vegetables, such as carrots and beets, are most delicious when half-mature. By thinning at first only enough to insure that each stands well alone in the row and then allowing them to grow awhile, many will soon reach the stage when they can be harvested for the table.

Second, it is foolish to discard all excess plants prematurely when accidents, insects or disease may destroy many which are left. If thinning is done by stages as the plants grow, they will finally stand at the optimum distance from each other, and there will be small chance of vacant spaces in the row.

Lettuce plants, thinned to stand an inch apart, will soon reach a size when alternate plants can be removed to make a salad; and this process may be continued until the spacing is right for the remaining plants to mature.

Carrots may be thinned the first time when they are as thick as a pencil; and a dish of the thinnings will give those who have never eaten such tiny carrots before, a new idea of this vegetable.

Beets may be allowed to grow until about six inches tall, when their roots have just begun to swell. If thinned out at this stage, the thinnings should be cooked roots and tops together, for a delicious dish.

Year-old George Williams called together 11 of his friends to see what could be done about improving the worst condition of their fellow-workers in the London drapery trades. From that meeting sprang the YMCA which today serves boys and young men in 74 countries.

In the United States 1,540 YMCA's have a total membership of 1,665,722. Dan Walton, general secretary of the local "Y" reports, of which 848 are members in the Warren area.

At the recent annual meeting of the local association the statistical report of the activities and services of the YMCA to their membership and the community was presented by Secretary Walton showing the great variety and volume of these services for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1948. Here are just a few of the highlights taken from that mimeographed report: In the Social and Religious emphasis department there was conducted a total of 61 different meetings with a total attendance of 2,155 persons. These meetings included the Lenten suppers sponsored by the Y Men's Club, the World Service meetings, the World Youth Fund Division meeting, the Foremen's Club, the Y Men's Club, the Chess Club and other miscellaneous group meetings. In addition to the foregoing, large numbers of young men and seniors use the "Y" lobby and game rooms daily. In the Boys' Department the figures show a total of 316 group meetings with a total attendance of 5,579 boys. These groups included Gra-Y Clubs, Jr. and Senior Hi-Y clubs, Craft clubs, special classes, parties, Bible Study groups and other scheduled groups. The boys lobby is also a busy place especially during the winter season with large numbers of boys enjoying the games there during the afternoon and early evening every day except Sunday.

It took two pages of the report to list the Physical Department statistics with the imposing array of group meetings and participant totals showing the grand total of 1,359 group sessions and a grand total attendance of 27,375. These groups included volleyball, basketball, mushball leagues, boxing classes, regular gym classes, swimming classes and special events. A real highlight in this department is the record of teaching 319 persons to swim during the year—193 boys, 91 girls and 35 adults.

Twenty-one different community groups used the "Y" meeting rooms for their meetings during the past year with a total of 90 meetings registered and an attendance of 3,541 persons. The Board of Directors for the coming year is composed of the following: W. Howard Alexander, Frank D. Alexander, C. W. Beckley, Roy L. Blodgett, Dr. O. S. Brown, H. G. Eaton, Maurice R. Emery, Harold S. Hampton, A. E. Johnson, Don H. Mowell, Neil D. Patterson, A. L. Raemussen, Hilmar A. Ross, Robert R. Young. The Board of Trustees is composed of the following: H. L. Barger, Dr. S. A. Blair, D. Blackman, H. W. Conarro, C. J. Cray and M. H. Dearborn. The staff of the association is as follows: Dan K. Walton, general secretary; Cyril J. Little, boys' secretary; J. Wm. Mulvey, physical director; Katherine M. Bauer, office secretary.

Visiting Nurse
by Kathleen Harris

Chapter 4
HILDED, being young and so personal interest in herself, decided she would tell Mamie, in a round about way at least, some of the thoughts that had so troubled her she had been unable to rest. She said, "do you think a woman knows when a man loves her, Mamie sat down, on the straight-backed chair. Or does she have to tell him—show him some way, opening his blind eyes—make him wake up? Is there such a thing as taking too much for granted—on both sides. I mean—if true love is really there?"

Mamie sat down, on the straight-backed chair. She said, "Don't know as I know what you would call true love." She said, "I've read some books and picture shows. Never have time for them myself. My first husband was a hard worker and I respected him and married him cause I knew he respected me and would help me and my family all he could. He died—killed in a factory accident. But I knew he loved me if he never had time for fancy words."

Hilred nodded: she knew something of the hard struggle this rugged woman had had.

"My second husband was no account—drank all the time till I had to throw him out." Mamie continued. "He never makes a body think he was burning with love if he wanted something, like the price of another drink. Yes, you gotta tell 'em, as well as lead 'em. I don't pay for her to let him take her for granted, like you say, never. Why don't you come right out and ask the doctor when he means to get married to you, Hilred?" She terminated her own reminiscences with a question that was almost too abrupt.

"I could hardly do that," she said. "I guess you are right. I just have taken too much for granted. Maybe the doctor has, too. But I woke up yesterday. I'm going to do something about it—though what, I haven't the slightest idea. I'm going to have dinner with another man this evening."

You don't say? Mamie's eyes beamed approval from behind the spectacles. "What's his name and where does he live?"

"He was the man—one of them—who found me yesterday and drove me back into town." Hilred explained. "His name is Lucien—Lucien Lanier," she finished answering Mamie's last question.

If a bomb had exploded under Mamie's chair she could not have looked so startled. "Lucien Lanier," Mamie was saying, rolling the syllables over and over. "It musta been him, then. They say so to how there was talk of them opening up the big house again. She's never come back, not since the old gentleman died and she took him with her and went to live in foreign parts. To think it would be him you would be meeting, Hilred. Gold doorknobs they say, in every room and the bath fixtures. I got that straight enough from Martha, my oldest, when she was upstairs mald that last winter. As for the danger, I reckon that kind is gentlemanly enough when it comes to fine manners and all but if I was as pretty and young as you, that would make me the more careful."

It was a boy. He gets it all, the whole plantation, 'cause the old grandpa had been so mad, about the count, I reckon, he'd made his will leaving it that way. She—the countess, only she was on until the old man died. Wonder why he'd come back now, the boy, he would be a man, of course, and if he's gonna stay."

Hilred could not answer that. If the rest was beginning to clear up. She knew—as did everyone who ever came here—about the big plantation with its groves of turpentine and cypress, as well as the various stories rumored about the magnificent house built so far inland that no outsider had ever so much as glimpsed it. There were tales, too, about the owners, but they had mostly died down as the place had been run so long by a caretaker and the negroes employed to work the land. These made up a small village in themselves as they were many numbers.

Now that she knew who Lucien Lanier was she was sorry she had not found some way to refuse his invitation "I wish I wasn't going," she told Mamie.

Once won't hurt," Mamie consoled her. "The doctor might set up and take notice if he thought you was keeping company with the likes of Lucien Lanier. If only for that, I'd go—though just this once—if I was you."

She was decidedly glad she had bought the blue dress.

YMCA Anniversary Of Much Interest To Warren People

The more than 6,000 YMCA's around the world in 74 countries, figuratively if not literally, cut their birthday cake yesterday with one hundred and four candles sparkling on it in celebration of the founding of the association in 1844 by a group of youthful British dry goods clerks. The local YMCA joins in this celebration in spirit although no special anniversary event is scheduled.

It was one hundred and four years ago this June 6th that 22-

year-old George Williams called together 11 of his friends to see what could be done about improving the wretched condition of their fellow-workers in the London drapery trades. From that meeting sprang the YMCA which today serves boys and young men in 74 countries.

In the United States 1,540 YMCA's have a total membership of 1,663,722. Dan Walton, general secretary of the local "Y," reports that 848 are members in the Warren association.

At the recent annual meeting of the local association the statistical report of the activities and services of the YMCA to their membership and the community was presented by Secretary Walton showing the great variety and volume of these services for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1948. Here are just a few of the highlights taken from that mimeographed report: In the Social and Religious Emphasis department there was conducted a total of 61 different meetings with a total attendance of 2,155 persons. These meetings included the Lenten suppers sponsored by the Y Men's Club, the World Service meetings, the World Youth Fund Dividend meeting, the Foremen's Club, the Y Men's Club, the Chess Club and other miscellaneous group meetings. In addition to the foregoing, large numbers of young men and seniors use the "Y" lobby and game rooms daily. In the Boys' Department the figures show a total of 316 group meetings with a total attendance of 5,579 boys. These groups included Gra-Y Clubs, Jr. and Senior Hi-Y clubs, Craft clubs, special classes, parties, Bible Study groups and other scheduled groups. The boys' lobby is also a busy place especially during the winter season with large numbers of boys enjoying the games there during the afternoon and early evening every day except Sunday.

HILDRED, being young and pretty and newly awakened to a personal interest in herself decided she would tell Mamie, in a round about way at least, some of the thoughts that had so troubled her she had been unable to rest.

"She said, 'do you think a woman knows when a man loves her. Mamie sat down, on the straight-backed chair. She said, 'I don't know as I know what you would call 'true love,' 'cept in story books and picture shows. Never have time for them myself. My first husband was a hard worker and I respected him and married him 'cause I knew he respected me and would help me and my family all he could. He died—killed in a factory accident. The old gentleman that died was Lucien's grandpa, the mother was all that land, hundreds of acres and had such a fine house built square in the middle of it.

"The old man's daughter," Mamie went on, in her own roundabout way of explaining, "married a count that musta turned out a no-account, like they say. She came back home soon after and had the

Very Profitable Training Period For Scout Leaders

A total of 103 adults gathered at Camp Birdsey for the sectional leaders' weekend training period. The Warren Council was hostess and was pleased to welcome Mrs. A. N. Correll, formerly with the local council as executive director.

Elizabeth Figner, of the national staff, was present to conduct a training round table and hold conferences with representatives of the various communities.

On the opening evening, dinner was followed by a talk by Mrs. Granger, Warren, about the stars and an hour of folk dancing. The next day's program was highlighted by a talk by Mrs. Francis Ramsey, Tiona, on "International Friendship". Discussion groups were formed as follows: New Brownie leaders, Mrs. Wade Ransom, Youngsville; experienced Brownie leaders, Mrs. John Jacoby, Oil City; new intermediate leaders, Cecelia A. White, Warren; experienced leaders of intermediate troops, with junior high girls, Marjorie Smith, Erie; senior leaders, Jessie Brittingham, Erie.

Leaders cooked the noon meal over the campfires in the various unit kitchens under the direction of assigned staff members. The afternoon program offered a selection of workshops: Nature, Mrs. A. A. Grant, Sugar Grove; chip carving, Jean McQuillan, Bradford; weaving, Mrs. M. J. Jewell, North Warren; out of door skills, Marjorie Smith, Erie; assorted crafts, Dr. E. Worrell and Eleanor Anderson, Polk.

While leaders were in discussion groups and workshops, another group of 35 adults serving on camp committees gathered for consultation on camp problems. There were consultants for established camps with and without professional help, and on troop camping, Mrs. P. L. Abendroth, member of the Region III camp committee as well as of the Warren Council, was in charge of these round tables. Following the evening meal, each cabin presented a program in the layhouse on the international theme.

The final day's schedule included repeat of the workshops, with Ruth Moyer, Franklin, and Helen McCrea, Oil City, substituting for Mrs. Grant in nature work. A valuing meeting was held, with Mrs. Harold Stohl presiding. Mrs. Stohl is chairman of Section I, and serves on the Region III committee as well as the Warren county Council. Miss Figner asked for suggestions for next year to help the committee with its planning.

Senior Scout representatives from Erie, Bradford, Oil City, Meadville and Warren councils, and from lone troops in Ridgway and Jewett, also met and will form the steering committee for the senior sectional conference scheduled for this fall. The Warren county members of this committee are Jane Rogers, Warren, and Shirley Stover, Sheffield. Harold Smith, of Erie, was their director.

General chairman for the affair was Mrs. John Becker of Bradford. Helen Cuthbert, Erie, was program chairman, and Mrs. A. E. Soderholm, Warren, was in charge of arrangements.

National Forge Nine Thumps Falconer Millers, 16-8, Edges Brookville, 5-4, In Close Tilt

National Forge baseballers boosted their record for the season to four wins against a lone defeat by thumping Falconer, N. Y., 16-8, on the State Hospital diamond at North Warren Sunday and shading Brookville, Grays, 5-4, on Wilder field at Irvine on Sunday.

The Forge had two big innings against Falconer, scoring seven runs in the first frame and another seven in the eighth stanza.

In the opening frame, Murphy was out, short to first. Petrowski walked and promptly stole second. Randinelli fanned. Petrowski scurried home on Morrison's single, with Morrison advancing to second on the play. Then Joe Massa, up for the first time in a Forge uniform this season, smacked a home run deep into left field. Whitaker duplicated the performance with a clout into right center. McGraw walked. Anenea singled with McGraw stopping at second. A wild pitch advanced both runners. Scalis missed this third swipe at the ball, but was safe when the catcher dropped the apple. Wakefield took the mound for Falconer, with Plant going to the showers. Murphy singled, scoring McGraw and Anenea. Scalis tallied the seventh marker on a wild throw from the outfield. Petrowski grounded out to end the frame, with the Forge out in front, 7-1.

Falconer stormed back in the third frame, however, to match the Forge seven run splurge and take an 8-7 lead. Midway in the stanza, Scalis was replaced on the mound by Hines, who turned in a stellar relief pitching role for the N. F. O.

The Forge quickly regained the lead again in the bottom half of the third inning when Murphy hit a circuit blow after Hines had walked.

The Forge exploded in the eighth round for seven more runs to turn a close match into a walkaway.

Hitting stars for the Forge against Falconer were Murphy with a home run, a double and a single; Dean Whitaker with a home run and a brace of singles, and Joe Massa with a homer and a double.

Forge scoring: First inning—Morrison doubled to right center. Joe Massa fied out. Rosequist singled, scoring Morrison.

Fourth inning—Massa singled and went to second on a wild pitch. Rosequist grounded out, with Massa going to third. Underreiner fanned. McGraw was safe when the third baseman fumbled the ball. Whitaker singled, scoring Massa.

Sixth inning—Rosequist walked. Mason, who replaced Underreiner in left field, sacrificed Rosey to second on a perfect bunt down the third base line. McGraw fied out to short, but pegged to hit an effort to tag Rosey was wild and he went on across home plate.

Eighth inning—Morrison fanned. Massa doubled. Rosequist drew an intentional pass. Gagliardi, batting for Mason, singled to right to score Massa.

Ninth inning—Murphy walked. Petrowski sacrificed Murphy to second. Randinelli popped to the pitcher. Morrison smacked a line drive single to right field to score Murphy with the winning run.

Brookville scoring: Eighth inning—Marshall grounded out. Garvey walked. Webster hit out, with Garvey going to second. Malcarne singled to center. Garvey stopping at third. Carlson singled, scoring Garvey and sending Malcarne to third. Nosker fied to right, but McGraw dropped the ball. Malcarne scoring on the play and Carlson going to third. Chittister grounded to Randinelli who muffed the ball, allowing Carlson and Nosker to score. Chittister was out, however, trying to reach second to end the inning.

Indians Take a Clear Cut Lead In American League As Pitchers Come Through

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

From a "good-hit-no pitch" team of a few weeks ago, the American League Indians have suddenly burst forth with one of the finest mound corps in the majors.

Manager Lou Boudreau had a pleasant surprise in the "discovery" of rookie Gene Bearden as a fast rate starting pitcher to team with his reliable, Bob Feller and Bob Lemon.

The fourth starter likely is Steve Gromek. The 25-year-old right-hander from Hamtramck, Mich., who won 19 games in 1945, twirled a six-hitter in his first start of the season yesterday.

Gromek teamed with Lemon in pitching the Indians to a pair of victories over the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-3 and 11-1. The double triumph increased the Indians' first place margin over the Athletics to two and a half games.

The New York Yankees have been climbing at a steady pace and now are only three games off the pace. They whipped the St. Louis Browns, 4-3, and 3-0, yesterday to climb within half a game of the second place A's.

The St. Louis Cardinals regained the lead in the National League pennant race by defeating the Philadelphia Phillies twice in St. Louis, 11-1 and 2-0. Red Schoendienst led the attack for the Cards with five doubles and a home run.

Red clouted three doubles Saturday. The Cards tied off for 14 hits in the opener against three pitchers. They clubbed four home runs in the sixth inning—by Enos Slaughter, Erv Dusak, Schoendienst and Nippy Jones. The record of five home runs in one inning was made by the New York Giants in 1939.

Richie Ashburn, rookie Philadelphia outfielder, was held hitless in both games ending his consecutive game hitting streak at 23, a new mark for a first year man.

The New York Giants fell out of first place, a half game behind the Cardinals, when they were held to a split in their doubleheader with the Pirates in Pittsburgh. The Giants manhandled the Pirates, 16-4, in the opener but lost to the Bucs, 4-3, in the second game.

At that time the Brooklyn slugger staged a rally to stop Zale in the sixth round, lifting the midweight crown.

The fight was a duplication in reverse of the first meeting of the pair in Yankee Stadium Sept. 27, 1946, Zale, then champion, weathered an early shelling to score a sixth round knockout.

TRANSPORTATION PROVIDED
In Korea, royal funeral processions, which wind their way of more than 30 miles between Seoul and Kimkrokri, are accompanied by several wooden horses. These are taken along to furnish the departing soul with a means of transportation into the next world.

IN MEMORIAM

Amann—
In loving memory of our Dear Mother Emma who passed away five years ago June 6th. Gone is the face we loved so dear. Silent is the voice we loved to hear. Too far away for sight or speech. But not too far though to reach. Sweet to remember her who once was here. And who though absent is just as dear.
